VOL. XXIII, NO. 264 GAINESVILLE, FLORIDA. FRIDAY. DECEMBER 14, 1906 TEN CENTS A WEE

TIME ALLOWED IN SEPARATION

Of Church and State In Republic of France.

DELAY INCREASES EXCITEMENT

Caused by the Expulsion from France of Monsignor Montagnini, Secretary of the Papal Nunciature at the City of Paris—Seminiaries Closed.

Paris, Dec. 13.—The day of grace granted to the churches of Paris in the execution of the law providing for the separation of church and state, postpones until Thursday the measures for its enforcement.

The delay, however, has only served to increase the excitement caused by the expulsion from France of Monsignor Montagnini, secretary of the papel nunciature at Paris.

Prosecutions have been begun against the ultramontain abbes of the churches of St. Pierre du Gruos, St. Augustin and St. Roche, where the greatest resistance to the taking of the inventories occurred, and it has been decided to immediately take over the buildings belonging to the ecclesiastics, stop the pensions of the clergy, compel aspirants to the priesthood to fill their military obligations, and, if necessary, treat the clergy as subjects of a foreign power. This constitutes a sufficient demonstration of the spirit with which the government intends to meet resistance.

The reception of Premier Clemenceau's speech in the chamber of deputies also shows that he has parliament at his back. Nevertheless, M. Clemenceau was careful to say that there was still time for Catholics to conform to the law. That the rank and file of the liberal parties disapprove of the intransignant attitude of the authorities at Rome is evidenced by the fact that the editor of the Renaissance Felix Robin, has, of his own accord, filed with the prefect of police, Lepine, an application under the public meetings laws of 1881, for permission to hold religious meetings in all the churches.

This affords the single ray of hope in the situation. The Figaro says that Cardinal Richards, archbishop of Paris, at first declined to approve of M. Robin's action, but later he changed his mind. This application, if accepted, no matter whether it is approved or disapproved by the clergy, will legalize the holding of religious services and render unnecessary any proceedings against Paris priests or vicars tomorrow.

It turns out that the papers seized at the papal nunciature placed in the government's hand important evidence which may prove exceedingly embarrassing to the vatican if open war is to take place. They include besides all the diplomatic records covering the correspondence exchanged before the rupture with the vatican, recent instructions from Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, a mass of letters from prelates all over the world and letters in the handwriting of delegates of the Right Party. The Socialists' leaders assert that the seized documents even prove the existence of a conspiracy.

Cardinal Richard has accepted the temporary hospitality of M. Denys Cochin, a conservative member of the chamber of deputies, from one of the Paris districts.

The Catholic seminaries at Bordeaux, Mende and Saint Brieux were evacuated Wednesday.

Rome, Dec. 13.—The vatican authorities characterize the action of the French government in having Mgr. Montagnini, the expelled papal secretary of the nunciature at Paris, accompanideby the police as being an odious act, showing a desire to inflict humiliation on those who, because of their weakness, cannot retaliate.

It is much regretted in vatican circles that contrary to the propositions of some of the cardinals, the assistant papal secretary of state was not sent to Paris after the rupture of diplomatic relations between the vatican and France, as in view of his Francophile attitude under the late Pope Leo, he was the only person capabale of reaching an understanding with the French government. It is believed even now that notwithstanding the gravity of the situation France would not find it difficult to conciliate the vatican if negotiations on the subject were opened. In the meanwhile all the vatican forces have been mobilized to take part in the campaign. Even Father Werenz, the general of the Jesuits, has joined the belligerents.

The latest instructions sent to the French clergy are in substance that they are to look on the situation from its worst possible aspect and organize private religious services.

DAUGHTER DEFENDS MRS. JEFFERSON DAVIS

Mrs. Hayes Explains Mother's Letter to

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY

Mrs. Hayes Says that Her Mother Alway Loved the South and Lived in the North Because of Her Health. Offers No Apology.

New Orleans, La., Dec. 13.—The much discussed Mrs. Jefferson Davis letter, which created a sensation at the recent convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, is the subject of an explanation, written by Mrs. Margaret Howell Jefferson Davis Hayes, the only surviving daughter of the confederate president. It is addressed to General Stephen D. Lee, commanding the United Confederate Veterans, and made public by him.

The full text of the Mrs. Jefferson Davis' letter was suppressed from publication. It gave Mrs. Davis' reasons for having made her home in the north after the war and criticized Mississippi, the state of Jefferson Davis' residence.

Mrs. Haye's letter says:

"As to this letter of my mother's, allow me to say that it was written some ten years ago and was prompted by a desire to justify her actions in the eyes of the southern people, whom she loved with unafailing loyalty and devotion. This defense of herself sent to a friend to be read after her death, she wrote, after numberless articles condemning her actions were received by her when she was in failing health. If she had ben consulted by those in whose hands it was placed the letter would never have been made public, for only last spring, after discussing the fact of its existence, my mother decided to recall it, and hoped until I heard of its being read, that it had been destroyed.

"Whatever my mother may have been goaded to writing at the time this letter was sent to Julia Kimbrough, she felt safe in the love, respect and consideration of her own people and among whom she would gladly have lived and died, if her health had permitted, but unfortunately she could not bear the excessive heat of the south and was very prone to malaria. Then, again, after by father's death she was afraid to live in the country with my sister, there being no other member of our family who could stay with them."

Here Mrs. Hayes added that as her mother's income was not large and as the sister mentioned had literary ambitions, Mrs. Davis could live in New York more reasonably than elsewhere. She says that Mrs. Davis also made a handsome salary from New York newspapers by writing for them.

"I do not offer an apology for any action of my mother," the letter says "but I must feel that if anything she wrote gave offense to the people of the south, particularly Mississippi, it was misunderstood, and far from being intentionally hurtful.

"My mother decided that Richmond, as the seat of the goverament during the confederacy, was the proper place for my father and his descendants to rest. If Mississippi was slow in asking for my father's remains I am sure it was not through lack of love. Also, if Governor Lowry wrote anything which wounded my mother at the time I feel sure he did not intend to do so, for I know he was one of my father's most devoted and loyal friends. I urged the claims of Mississippi as above all other states. Let no one think other than that my mother loved and honored the south, and the southern people above everything. I hope that her few enemies will be silenced, if not won by this explanation."

The letter comes with an appeal for reverence and respect for the memory of "the mother of the confederacy."

SHERIFF FENNELL MADE BIG HAUL

Captured Quanitity of Liquor and Beer in Davidson's Restaurant.

THERE WAS WHISKEY GALORE

According to the Sheriff's Statement. Other Prominent Citizens and Business Men of High Springs Will be Arrested Within Next Day or Two.

Sheriff L. W. Fennell has made another big "haul" in the alleged blind tiger business, having Thursday arrested D. M. Davidson at High Springs and raided his place, securing more than two hundred bottles of whiskey and two barrels of bottled beer.

Sheriff Fennell has had many complaints regarding the illegal selling of whiskey in High Springs, and decided finally to make a raid of the place. He went Thursday to that town, and the first place raided was a restaurant said to be owned by D. M. Davidson. When he arrived upon the scene the sheriff states that there were a number of negroes, men and women, "having a good time." They were soon quieted upon the appearance of the sheriff, with Marshal C. C. Howell and Night Officer J. L. Shaw, and an investigation followed, with the above result.

Sheriff Fennell confiscated all the "booze" found in the place, afterwards arresting the alleged proprietor, Mr. Davidson. Mr. Davidson accompanied the sheriff to Gainesville, but owing to the late hour at which he arrived was unable to give bond, and was remanded to jail for the night. It is expected, however, that he will give bond today.

Sheriff Fennell stated that there has been considerable blind tiger business in High Springs recently, and that several complaints had been made to him. He states that other informations have been filed, that witnesses have been secured, and arrests will be made within the next two or three days.

Sheriff Fennell hauled the "booze" to the county jail, where he has an improvised wine cellar, and will hold the same as evidence of the fact.

COL. FILDES MADE HIT.

Spoke to Big Audience on "The Florida Politician" in St. Petersburg.

Col Charles L. Fildes, one of the really brilliant members of the Tampa Bar, delivered his lecture on "The Florida Politician" at St. Petersburg a few evenings since, and The Independent of that city pays him this tribute:

"Col. Fildes is a brilliant speaker and has the faculty of skidding from the gay to the grave like an automobile taking a slippery asphalt sidewalk. He does it before you think. It is tears one minute and laughter the next. It is a pity that more did not hear him."

A number of Tampa lawyers desire to arrange for the delivery of this lecture in this city at an early date, under the auspices of the Hillsborough County Bar Association, and it is probable that a Tampa audience will soon have the pleasure of hearing the versatile Colonel on that subject of many phases, "The Florida Politician."—Tampa Tribune.

When you buy Lard you get more than you bargain for. It's heavier in your stomach than on the scales.

Lard is a foe to digestion. If you had the stomach of an ostrich you could hardly withstand the ravages of lard-soaked pastry. You have probably found this out and already given up the eating of pastry. 'Tis wholly unnecessary! Anyone can eat and digest food cooked with Cottolene, the perfect shortening. It is a pure vegetable product, made from the best beef suet and choicest vegetable oil. It is neutral in taste and odor.

Cottolene is never sold in bulk. It is put up in carefully sealed tin pails. When you buy lard you have no protection as to quality—you simply know you are getting LARD—never mind the grade, it's just L-A-R-D. On the other hand, every pail of Cottolene is uniform—the product is guaranteed. You take no chances whatever.

In the face of these facts just ask yourself if you can afford to use hog lard when you can get pure, healthful, nutritious Cottolene.

COTTOLENE was granted a GRAND PRIZE (highest possible award) over all other cooking fats at the recent Louisiana Purchase Exposition, and food cooked with COTTOLENE another GRAND PRIZE.

"Home Helps" a book of 300 choice recipes, edited by Mrs. Rorer, is yours for a 2c stamp, if you address The N. K. Fairbank Company, Chicago.

A NEW FEATURE—The patent air-tight top on this pail is for the purpose of keeping COTTOLENE clean, fresh and wholesome; it also prevents it from absorbing all disagreeable odors of the grocery, such as fish, oil, etc.

ELEVEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Things Were Quite Different, and People Were Not Near So Contented

Eleven years ago today the people of this section were not near so happy and contented as they are today, because of the fact that they were overshadowed by a terrible calamity—the calamity of the great freeze, which devastated the State, and which laid to barron waste in one night magnificent orange groves which it had required years of energy and cash and work to establish.

But the country is again in a prosperous condition—in fact, more prosperous than at that time, which shows that the people of Florida cannot be "downed" when it comes to energy and making a living.

We are prosperous today, and have forgotten that fatal freeze of '95 in our endeavor to regain what was lost in that terrible calamity.

HN HOLT WAS HELD FOR MURDER

s Placed Under $1,000 Bond r Alleged Killing of McKay.

ND WAS PROMPTLY GIVEN

Interesting Case With an Interesting History—Dying Declration of McKay States that Holt Shot at Him Four Times.

John Holt, charged with the murder of Albert McKay, a negro at Newberry, has been placed under $1,000 bond, after a preliminary hearing lasting two days before County Judge Mason, during which a great many witnesses as were examined.

Probably one of the strongest links which prompted Judge Mason to place Holt under bond was the dying statement, or declaration, of McKay, in which he declares, under oath taken before Justice of the Peace W. H. Parker of Newberry, that he is confident Holt shot him.

This statement declares that, a few months ago, while the deceased was working for Bell & Co., near Trenton, Officers Granger and Holt went to Bell's place to arrest some men. He was working in the stock yard, hitching up a mule, and saw the men. As soon as he knew what they were about, he hurried to the home of Mr. Bell to tell him. Mr. Holt, he was told, recognized him, and knew that he was going to tell Mr. Bell, and remarked, "I will kill that s—of a b— yet." McKay stated that he afterwards went to Newberry, and that Holt was there with a rifle. He believed that Holt intended to kill him then, but he was not a white man, and stuck so close to this white man that Mr. Holt did not have an opportunity to accomplish his purpose.

On the night of December 5, McKay stated in his dying statement, he was in Newberry, having gone there to see a physician, as he was ill. He went from Taggart's hall, where he remained a while, and when he came to some one, whom he knew to be John Holt, approached him and fired four shots, after which he ran.

The story of the shooting and death of McKay is an interesting one. On the night of December 5, present year, he was shot on the streets of Newberry. The four pistol shots in rapid succession was an evidence that there must be a tragedy, and almost before the reports had died away in the lines there had congregated a good-sized crowd, who discovered the negro lay upon the ground seriously wounded. The slayer had fled in the darkness, however, and that night there was no further development of the tragedy.

McKay was taken to a place in Newberry, and it was discovered that he was wounded in the stomach, hip and head. The attending physician realized at once that the wounds would prove fatal, and so stated. The balls indicated a 38-caliber pistol, and three out of four shots had taken effect.

John Holt was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Livingston shortly after the shooting, on the statement, it is alleged, of McKay, that Mr. Holt had done the shooting. Holt was released under bond, pending the result of the wounds, when on Friday McKay died. A coroner's jury was summoned and impanelled and held an inquest, but failed to reach a verdict, whereupon the defendant was released from bond. The jury comprised six of the best men in Newberry, being D. G. Roland, J. D. May, John G. White, T. M. Kinard, W. J. Hodges and I. F. Lamb.

Immediately after the verdict of the coroner's jury was rendered, Holt was arrested and brought to this city, where a preliminary hearing was given in the county judge's court.

Judge Mason required of the defendant a bond of $1,000 for his appearance at the next term of the circuit court, which was promptly furnished, his mother, Mrs. Holt, J. L. Tyre of Alachua and Ira J. Carter of Newberry being the sureties.

An Absentminded Professor.

The absentminded professor we have always with us, but George Washington university lays claim to the prize package. Not only is Professor X. absentminded to a marked degree, but his wife is the typical absentminded professor's wife. It is she who places his books ready for the day, she who changes the buttons to a fresh shirt, reminds him of the necessity of an umbrella when he starts out in the pouring rain and she who runs out to the gate with his glasses seven days in the week.

As usual one day recently she prepared his morning bath and through some oversight left the hot water spigot turned on. Professor X. entered the bathroom, disengaged himself from his bath robe and plunged into the tub. Instantly the air was rent by wild shrieks, and his wife ran upstairs, breathlessly inquiring the cause of such a commotion.

"Oh, Margaret," he exclaimed, "the water is boiling hot. I am being scalded to death."

"Where in the world are you, dear?" said the now thoroughly alarmed wife.

"In the tub, and the water is scalding me. What shall I do?"

"In such a case, my dear," responded his better half, "I would either get out of the tub or turn on the cold water."—Washington Post.

Banquo and His Son.

Sir Walter Scott says "early authorities show us no such persons as Banquo and his son Fleance." Even the very names seem to be fictitious, as they were not Gaelic and are not to be found in any of the ancient chronicles or Irish annals. Neither is a thane of Lochaber known in Scotch history, though Sir Bernard Burke makes Banquo a descendant of Kenneth II, and thane of Lochabyr. Malone says that after Banquo's assassination Fleance fled to Wales, where he married a Welsh princess, by whom he had a son, Walter, who became lord high steward of Scotland. He assumed the name Walter Steward and was, it is said, the direct ancestor of the house of Stewart. Shakespeare, we know, based "Macbeth" on Holinshed's "History"—a good deal of which was borrowed from a circumstantial romance composed by Boece. Mr. Roswell-Stone, in his "Shakespeare's Holinshed," after balancing the pros and cons, says, "In my opinion, Banquo and Fleance are probably creatures of Boece's imagination."

Six Fingered Monkeys.

In several places in Cape Colony and the Orange Free State of South Africa caves have been discovered which yielded hundreds of mummified remains of a queer species of six fingered monkeys. All of the full grown specimens of this remarkable race have the tail situated high up on the back—from three to five inches farther up than on the modern monkey—and other distinguishing marks, such as two sets of canine teeth, beards on the males, etc.

DESTRUCTIVE MICE.

They Tried to Sink the Ark, According to an Old Legend.

Mice do not play a great part in folklore. Even the legend of the "Pied Piper" associates them with rats, but one recalls a few cases not uninteresting. A Bohemian legend declares that they were created by the devil, whereupon beneficence produced the cat. When Noah received a pair of them into the ark they straightway began to gnaw a hole through the bottom, instigated by their unholy parent. Water was pouring in when the serpent, with admirable presence of mind, stopped the leak with his head. We should conclude that mice are specially destructive in Bohemia, and so it proves to be. Both the white and gray varieties flourish there, but the former is thought inoffensive. When harvests are ripening the peasants anxiously catch a white mouse, put it in a comfortable box upon the window sill, feed and pet it and call it "the luck of the house." If satisfied with these attentions the animal will banish all its gray kinsfolk from the vicinity.

In that very interesting island of Bali, also, where Brahmanism and Buddhism inextricably mingled, survive, while all the populations round have long been Moslem, some fortunate mice receive like honor. The Balis catch a pair, clothe them in white linen and set them in a public place, where all the inhabitants of the village bow down before them. Then they release the prisoners and straightway, with an easy conscience, trap and kill every mouse that can be found, for they are terribly destructive in the ricefields. Let us cite an old Greek charm which is worth quoting. "Take a paper and write," it says, "'I adjure you, ye mice now present, neither to injure me nor to let others do so. I give you yonder field'—specifying one not far off—'and if ever I catch you here I swear by the mother of the gods I will tear you into seven pieces.' Write this and fix the paper on an unhewn stone in your field, taking care that the writing lies uppermost." Thus a man directed all his mice to a neighbor's property, as some villa residents at the present day pitch their snails over the garden wall. —London Standard.

HARMFUL STOMACH DOSING.

No Need of It When Hyomei Is Used to Cure Catarrh.

Physicians and scientists agree that the less medicine one swallows, the better. It is in keeping with this idea that Hyomei is recommended by leading physicians throughout this and other catarrhal sections.

When this treatment is used in catarrhal troubles, there is no stomach dosing, for the medicine is taken in with the air you breathe, and goes right to the spot where the catarrhal germs are present, healing the inflamed and irritated mucous membrane, killing the disease germs and entering the blood with the oxygen, driving all catarrhal germs from the system.

Do not try to cure catarrh of the head by putting medicine into your stomach, as this is neither a scientific nor common-sense treatment. Breathe the healing balsams of Hyomei and in a few days you will notice relief, and its continued use will result in a complete and lasting cure.

J. W. McCollum & Co. have seen so many cures made by Hyomei amongst their customers, several of them cases where all hope of relief had been given up, that they give an absolute guarantee of cure, or money will be refunded with every outfit they sell.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1, while extra bottles of Hyomei, if needed, are only 50 cents.

Work of the Heart.

Few stop to consider the amount of labor performed daily by the human heart. The inexhaustible supply of energy displayed by this overworked organ is marvelous. Calculation has shown that the work of the heart of an average person is equal to the feat of lifting over five tons at the rate of a foot an hour or 125 tons in twenty-four hours. A certain Dr. Richardson once made a curious calculation in regard to the work performed by the heart in mileage. He presumed that the blood was forced out of the heart at each palpitation in the proportion of sixty-nine strokes a minute and at the assumed distance of nine feet. At this rate the flow of the blood through the body would be 207 yards a minute, or seven miles an hour. This would make 170 miles a day, or 61,000 miles a year. Thus in a lifetime of eighty-four years the blood in the human body would travel over 5,000,000 miles. The number of beats of the heart required to send the blood that far would be over 2,000,000,000.

ATLANTA WINS HEADQUARTERS

Chattanooga Is To Lose the Postoffice Inspectors.

Washington, Dec. 13.—When Atlanta's new public building is completed, which it will be in about three years, the inspectors of the postoffice department who now make Chattanooga their headquarters, will change their office to Atlanta, provided accommodations can be secured in the new building.

This will affect only about 20 or 25 men, but the change in base is a recognition by the postoffice department of Atlanta's strategic position geographically, which is of much more importance.

Paul E. Williams is now in charge of the division, which has headquarters in the government building in Chattanooga. The department has charge of the work in Georgia and four contiguous states. The rural agents, of which there are now 15 or 20, in these states, are also postoffice inspectors under the new law. They will perform the duty of inspectors in addition to their work as rural agents. To these agents devolves the task of going over the ground of proposed new routes and inspecting them, and later supervising the work on the routes. The inspectors simply look after irregularities or infringements of the law in connection with the postal service.

Counterfeit $10 Silver Certificate.

New York, Dec. 13—One of the best counterfeits that has recently come to the notice of the government authorities, found its way to the subtreasury Wednesday. It is a ten dollar silver certificate, bearing the Buffalo imprint. The back of the bill is even a closer counterfeit of the original bill than the face, but both are good enough to deceive any but experts. This bill is the first of this particular counterfeit that has run into the hands of the government. Efforts will be made to trace the makers of the bill.

A Miraculous Cure.

The following statement by H. M. Adams and wife, Henrietta, Pa., will interest parents and others. "A miraculous cure has taken place in our home. Our child had eczema 5 years and was pronounced incurable, when we read about Electric Bitters, and concluded to try it. Before the second bottle was all taken we noticed a change for the better, and after taking 7 bottles he was completely cured." It's the up-to-date blood medicine and body building tonic. Guaranteed. 50c and $1 at all drug stores.

Washington, Dec. 13.—The house Wednesday began the reading of the legislative, executive and judicial bill. The legislative bill will be followed by an urgent deficiency bill, the main items of which carry appropriations of $250,000, for the department of agriculture and to enforce the pure food law, and $50,000 for the war department covering the transportation of officers to and from Cuba with the understanding that the republic of Cuba shall reimburse the United States

DISFIGURING SKIN HUMOR

Impossible to Get Employment, as Face and Body Were Covered With Itching Sores—Scratched Till Flesh Was Raw—Spent Hundreds of Dollars on Doctors and Hospitals and Grew Worse.

CURED BY CUTICURA IN FIVE WEEKS

"Since the year 1894 I have been troubled with a very bad case of eczema which I have spent hundreds of dollars trying to cure, and I went to the hospital, but they failed to cure me and it was getting worse all the time. Five weeks ago my wife bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap, and I am pleased to say that I am now completely cured and well.

"It was impossible for me to get employment, as my face, head, and body were covered with it. The eczema first appeared on the top of my head, and it had worked all the way around down the back of my neck and around to my throat, down my body and around the hips. It itched so I would be obliged to scratch it, and the flesh was raw.

"I would first wash the affected parts with warm water and Cuticura Soap, and then apply Cuticura Ointment and let it remain on all night, and in the morning I would use Cuticura Soap. I am now all well, which all my friends can testify to, and I will be pleased to recommend the Cuticura Remedies to any and all persons who wish a speedy and permanent cure of skin diseases." $150,000 FINE IMPOSED.

Sugar Trust and Cooperage Company Are Hard Hit.

New York, Dec. 13.—Fines aggregating $150,000 were imposed Tuesday by Judge Holt in the United States circuit court upon the American Sugar Refining company and the Brooklyn Cooperage company ,after the defendants, through their counsel, had pleaded guilty to indictments, charging the acceptance of rebates on sugar shipments, in violation of the Elkins anti-rebating act. The sugar refining company was fined $80,000 and the cooperage company $70,000.

After the fines were imposed, U. S. District Attorney Stimson, who conducted the prosecution, told the court that he thought the amount of the fines assessed was sufficiently large to act as a deterrent to rebaters in the future, and that the government would consent to the remainder of the indictments against the American Sugar Refining company and the Brooklyn Cooperage company, being dismissed. Judge Holt granted a motion dismissing the other indictments.

A new German invention is a machine for picking chickens. After the bird is killed it is placed in the machine. A button is pushed and transverse currents of air are operated by the turning of fans at a rate of five thousand revolutions a minute. In a jiffy the feathers, pinfeathers and the smallest particles of down are removed from the chicken and the machine is ready for another bird. If Reuben Frey had one of these machines he would have less trouble getting "pickers" during the rush season.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

DESIGNER CONTENTS.

The Designer for January offers a line of new ideas for the New Year. The main requirement for a magazine of any kind is to keep a little ahead of the times. It is a difficult proposition, but with hustling and perseverance it can be done. The Designer makes this its chief aim. Readers who have an eye for important details should not overlook the superiority of this illustration in The Designer over other fashion magazines. The models pictured and described are the latest designs of the fashion-makers. Besides this, there are special articles by people who know their subjects well. Among these articles are, "The Business Woman's Outfit," "Lesson in Dressmaking," "Instructions in Millinery," "Homelike Interiors." Laura Seidle's up to-the-last minute description of the new fashionable fancies in dress, etc. The other half of the magazine is devoted to stories and poems appropriate to the season, among which is an exceedingly graceful little sketch, "A Cinderella of a Night," by Helen Clark Balmer, and poems by Arthur Powell, John Kendrick Bangs and Susie M. Best.

The astonishing part of it is that you can have The Designer for a year for fifty cents, postpaid. Send subscriptions for 1907 now.

If Japan succeeds in "regulating" the public schools of San Francisco, we might get her to try her hand at those in the District of Columbia as to which there seems to be no objection to foreign interference.

DYSPEPSIA

"Having taken your wonderful "Cascarets" for three months and being entirely cured of stomach catarrh and dyspepsia, I think a word of praise is due to "Cascarets" for their wonderful composition. I have taken numerous other so-called remedies but without avail and I find that Cascarets relieve more in a day than all the others I have taken would in a year."

A ROYAL TRAGEDY.

About the same period at which Queen Caroline was earning notoriety for herself there resided in a small town in the north of Germany a man noted for his skill as a public executioner. Late one evening two men in military uniform called upon this person and requested him to accompany them, as his services were required at some distance and would be liberally rewarded, but that he must consent to be blindfolded. To this, after some demur, he consented and entered the carriage brought by the two officers. Apparently they drove a long distance, and at last by the sound he judged that they had crossed a bridge and entered a paved courtyard.

The carriage having stopped, he was assisted to alight and conducted along corridors and upstairs till at last, the bandage being removed, he found himself in a large, gloomy room, in the center of which stood a block with a heavy sword laid on it. A door at the far end of the room opened, and a tall and very handsome woman entered, led by two men and gagged. She was forced to the block and the executioner ordered to do his office. With some hesitation he obeyed. Instantly he was again blindfolded, hurried downstairs, placed in the carriage and driven off at full speed. To all his inquiries and remonstrances his escort remained obstinately deaf, but on reaching his home a very large sum of money was given him, with a warning that he would do well never to attempt to solve the mystery or tell of that night's work.

Shortly afterward he heard that the Duchess of Wurttemberg, sister of Queen Caroline, had died suddenly on that very night. She was a woman of great beauty and known to be an object of great jealousy and suspicion to her husband, who was said to keep her in enforced seclusion, and, from inquiries he made, the executioner felt no doubt that this ill fated daughter of the house of Brunswick had been the gagged lady who had been thus secretly done to death by his hand.—Temple Bar.

HEART ACTION AT SEA.

How It Is Affected by Vibration on Ocean Liners.

"All hearts sound alike on these modern ships," said the surgeon of a transatlantic liner. "Although the hull of the average modern steamer is bigger and supposedly less subject to the violence of the sea, the machinery to drive the enlarged hulls has been increased in size. With the increase in the size of the engines there has followed greater vibration.

"It is this vibration which makes it impossible for us to read truly the action of the average human heart. I have tried repeatedly by all manner of means to overcome the influence of the vibration on the heart, but I find that by even swinging a patient in a hammock, where the shaking up is not greatly felt, the result of the heart reading is far from satisfactory.

"The first day at sea in this ship on her maiden voyage I had occasion to treat an Englishman who was en route to Canada on business. I was startled to hear his heart. Yet he had the finest kind of cardiac action, as I ascertained once the ship's machinery stopped. I have since found it to be an invariable rule that the engine's vibration makes it appear as though the heart of the average man was going to stop before I could get the stethoscope away from his breast.

"Vibration does not hurt the heart any. Do not make the mistake of supposing that it does. It just sounds as though the end was positive, and, while the patient's heart is beating in regular form, the shaking of the ship deceives even the practiced ear."—Washington Post.

The Snowdrop.

In the northern United States the snowdrop is the only garden flower that we can count on year after year as the earliest sign of spring. Its pendulous white blossoms, with "heart shaped seal of green" sung by Rossetti, often appear before the last snow has gone. Luckily, even city families need not be without snowdrops, for they have been known to thrive in narrow passageways between tall houses. Most bulbous plants like the baking hot sun of midsummer in order to ripen their bulbs, but the snowdrop thrives best in partial shade. It blooms earlier if it has a chance at the March sun, but is one of the very few that will flower regularly, though less freely, in dense shade and with a northern exposure.—Country Life In America.

What's

Worth doing is worth doing well. If you wish to be cured of rheumatism use Ballard's Snow Liniment and you will be "well cured." A positive cure for sprains, neuralgia, bruises, contracted muscles and all the ills that flesh is heir to. A. G. M. Williams, Navasota, Texas, writes: "I have used Snow Liniment for sprained ankle and it gave the best of satisfaction. I always keep it in the house." Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Ristori's Too Grateful Soldier.

During Ristori's first engagement at Madrid an elderly woman one night gained access to her dressing room and tearfully begged her intervention on behalf of her son, a young soldier condemned to death for a serious breach of discipline. At the close of the performance Ristori was presented to Queen Isabella, made the required appeal and obtained the young man's free pardon, perhaps because it gave to the queen the opportunity of a mot—that she was certain the actress had never before played in a tragedy with such a happy ending. Some years later Ristori again visited Madrid. During the first performance a soldier among the audience made a disturbance, was ejected only after severely damaging a number of policemen and was subsequently sentenced to a long term of imprisonment. He proved to be Ristori's former protege, who, hearing of her return, had come to the theater in order to renew his expression of gratitude. Unfortunately he had drunk her health too enthusiastically beforehand, with the result that he finally owed her not only his life, but free board and lodging for several years into the bargain.—London Truth.

PLEA DID NOT AVAIL.

Robert Wright Fined and Held for the State Courts.

Atlanta, Dec. 13.—Robert H. Wright, the self-confessed bigamist, was arraigned in the recorder's court Tuesday and fined $50.75 for idling about the city, and was ordered held until the DeKalb county authorities can come after him for bigamy.

Wright again confessed to the recorder and made a plea for mercy on the ground that he had reformed and wanted to live to take care of his first wife and the children.

The plea fell on deaf ears, for Recorder Broyles told him that probably he thought he could get off like Crutchfield did, but such a plea was worth nothing in the police court.

"You seem to have forgotten the second woman you married and deeply wronged," the recorder said to him. "She is better off without you, however, as you are not a fit man for a good woman to live with."

Mrs. Wright No. 1 was in court, a poor, hard-worked woman, and she wept during her husband's trial. She said that she came to Atlanta a few years ago with her husband and they were then good Christians. Her husband disappeared, and when he turned up again he confessed that he had married another woman in DeKalb county.

Wright's second wife is said to be living in Griffin, where she was when he decided to desert her and return to his first wife.

Asthma Sufferers Should Know This.

Foley's Honey and Tar has cured many cases of asthma that were considered hopeless. Mrs. Adolph Buesing, 701 West Third St., Davenport, Iowa, writes: "A severe cold contracted twelve years ago was neglected until it finally grew into asthma. The best medical skill available could not give me more than temporary relief. Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended and one fifty-cent bottle entirely cured me of asthma which had been growing on me for twelve years. If I had taken it at the start I would have been saved years of suffering." J. W. McCollum & Co.

Lawyer Loses Suit for Fee.

Macon, Ga., Dec. 13.—Thomas H. DeVine, the Colorado lawyer who came to Macon to sue Mrs. S. A. Bailey, of this city, for the sum of $500, which he claimed was due him on a note, does not get the cash, in the city court a verdict being in favor of the defendant. In her fight Mrs. Bailey claimed that she had signed the paper under duress, and asked that she be allowed to let $500 go unpaid.

CASHES ORDERS AND SKIPS OUT

Young Georgian Beats the Express Company's Agents.

Columbia, S. C., Dec. 12.—Leaving behind him a pretty young wife in tears, more or less baggage, and several railroad and express officials who would give much to lay hands upon him again, T. S. Travers, 23 years old, a telegraph operator of itinerant habits, cashed two forged express money orders here and disappeared after "making a night of it" in the red light district, with the proceeds of $86.26.

Travers came here with his wife about a week ago from Elko, Ga., and after a few days was given work in the office of the chief dispatcher for the Columbia division of the Southern road. He secured board at 809½ Main street, where his young wife is still awaiting him.

Mrs. Travers says that her husband is from Senoia, Ga., and that he has always borne a good reputation, although he has moved more or less.

Career at Elko.

Elko, Ga., Dec. 12.—Travers and his wife landed at Elko three weeks ago. They seemed without funds, but managed to secure board at a hotel. After working ten days here Travers secured offers of a better position at Columbia, S. C. They got out of town by pawning a diamond ring. It now develops that while here Travers purloined a couple of express money orders from the book the agent was using, tearing them out near the back of the book.

That's It!

Cough yourself into a fit of spasms and then wonder why you don't get well. If you will only try a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup your cough will be a thing of the past. It is a positive cure for coughs, influenza, bronchitis and all pulmonary diseases. One bottle will convince you—at your druggist's, 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

New and Old Bank Bills.

According to the Washington Post, quoting a cashier, bank officials do not prefer fresh new bills to old ones. "Everybody doesn't care for new greenbacks," said a cashier. "It is a common idea that bank tellers do not care to give up crisp paper money. As a matter of fact, nine cashiers out of every ten try to get rid of new money as quickly as possible after receiving it. There is grave danger to the average paying teller in handling unused money. New bank notes stick together. Frequently the ink is not thoroughly dry. During our rush period we handle a great deal of money. It is the easiest thing in the world to make mistakes with new bills when in a hurry to relieve a long line of waiting patrons. When possible we give out the new bills during hours when there is no rush. I'd rather pay out a million old bills than a hundred new ones."

Children's

Favorite tonic is White's Cream Vermifuge, the cure for worms and all children's diseases. It not only kills the worms, but removes the mucus and slime in which they build their nests. Its action on the child is mild and leaves him in a healthy condition. Joe Daniel, Sarmac, Tenn., says that he gave one of his children White's Cream Vermifuge when the doctor thought it had colic, and from the first dose the child passed 73 worms. For sale by W. Meeting of Those Interested Will be Held at Council Room Today.

The Alachua County Stock Show, which it is proposed to establish as published in The Sun a few days ago, seems to be an absolute certainty. A meeting of those interested will be held at the council chamber this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when every person who feels interested and who has the welfare of the city at heart is requested to be present.

At this meeting it is proposed to perfect arrangements for erecting necessary buildings, etc., for this great show, which is destined to prove of great benefit to the community and the county at large. The meeting will be held at 2:30 o'clock, and those interested are requested to be on hand promptly at that hour.

Atlantic Coast Line Night Train Over Eight Hours Behind Thursday.

Trains over the Atlantic Coast Line continue late. The north-bound night train from St Petersburg due here at 4 o'clock Thursday morning passed here at 12:20 p. m., eight hours and twenty minutes behind time.

There were few passengers on this train, but when it is taken into consideration that there has been so much irregularity in the schedules with no certainty as to reaching a destination, it is no wonder that the traveling public uses this route as little as possible, or except when absolutely necessary.
